THE RALEIGH NEWS.

VOL. XV.—73. RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 27, 1879. $5.00 PER ANNUM

THE SENATE'S WORK.

BUT LITTLE DONE IN THE UPPER HOUSE YESTERDAY.

Senators Bayard and Edmunds Speak on the Subsidiary Coin Bill---Mr. McDonald's Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—SENATE.—The Senate took up the bill reported by Senator Bayard to provide for the exchange of subsidiary coins for lawful money, and making such coins legal tender in sums not exceeding twenty dollars.

Senator Edmunds spoke against the bill.

The Senate considered the bill heretofore introduced by Senator McDonald, authorizing the employment of the militia and the land and naval forces in certain cases and to repeal the election law. After remarks upon the bill by Senator McDonald it was laid aside.

The president pro tem. announced his signature to the legislative appropriation bill, which now goes to the President. The Senate afterward discussed the bill relative to the transportation of animals.

Among the confirmations to-day were Eugene Schuyler, of New York, to be consul-general at Rome, and David H. Bailey, of Ohio, to be consul-general at Shanghai.

Dedication of a Cathedral.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The new Saint Patrick's Cathedral, on Fifth avenue and Fiftieth street, was dedicated to-day under the invocation of Saint Patrick with grand, solemn and imposing services. In the history of the Roman Catholic Church in America no event has been celebrated with such magnificence or splendor. About five thousand persons were in the building. Among the many distinguished Catholic clergymen who participated in the ceremonies were Archbishops Gibbons, Purcell, Bishops Lynch, Gross, Moore, Keane, Elder, Quinlan and McClosky.

The Old Story.

PANAMA, May 17.—It is learned from the state of Cania that the former president of Greece, candidate of the government party, Zaria and all revolutionary chiefs, are prisoners of war. The arrest of the party under Zanche, who is waiting to surrender to Gen. Payan, will remove for the present all opposition to the elevation of General Huntado, who, once established in power, undoubtedly will keep his seat.

Hospitalities to Gov. Colquitt.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A reception was tendered last night to Gov. Colquitt, of Georgia, and his wife, at the residence of Mr. T. G. Smith, Brooklyn. There were no formal speeches, but he and Mrs. Colquitt were warmly congratulated on every side. The visitors were among the best and most prominent citizens of Brooklyn. Gov. Colquitt will start for home Monday.

Guilty.

JERSEY CITY, May 26.—The jury in the Smith trial in this city, were out a little over three hours, when they returned into court with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree against both Mrs. Smith and Bennett. Counsel for the latter took seventeen exceptions to parts of the judge's charge, and, on application of counsel, the prisoners were remanded until judgment for sentence. They took their conviction very coolly.

Germany and the Vatican.

LONDON, May 22.—A Reuter's dispatch from Rome states that the rumors of the approaching signature of a concordat between Germany and the Vatican is denied. It is stated that Germany will not accept the Vatican's proposals. Negotiations for a modus vivendi are proceeding but an early result is not expected.

No Further Action at Present.

WASHINGTON, D C., May 24.—The Democratic Caucus Committee to-day decided to submit to a joint meeting of the Senate and House Conference Committees to-morrow evening a recommendation that no future mode of procedure be determined on by a majority until the Warner silver bill is disposed of by the Senate.

Trying to Avoid the Strike.

BOSTON, May 26.—The weavers and spinners in Fall River held a separate meeting Saturday evening, and each adopted resolutions to the end that amicable arrangements may be made with their employers, and the inevitable miseries attending a strike be avoided.

The Louisiana State Lottery.

NEW ORLEANS, May 26.—In the United States Court Judge Billings rendered a decision declaring the act of the Legislature repealing the charter of the Louisiana State Lottery Company inoperative, and granting an injunction restraining the State and city authority from interfering with the Company.

Steamer Sunk.

CALCUTTA, May 26.—The British India Steam Navigation Company's steamer Ava was in collision with another vessel and the Ava sunk. Sixty-six of the crew and four passengers were drowned. The Ava was an iron screw steamer of 2,600 tons, built at Dumbarton in 1873.

Lightning Don't Agree With Powder.

CHICAGO, May 26.—The Oriental Powder Company's magazine near Brighton, Ill., containing 50,000 kegs of powder, was struck by lightning yesterday and entirely consumed.

No Cause for a Duel.

PARIS, May 25.—Le Soir announces that the seconds of M. Paul De Cassagnac and M. Goblet have decided that there is not sufficient cause for a duel.

Admiral Saisset is dead.

On His Travels.

BERLIN, May 25—The Prince of Bulgaria has arrived here and had an audience with the Emperor William to-day, and was present at a state dinner this evening.

Cardinal Newman Ill.

ROME, May 25.—Cardinal Newman is suffering from pneumonia.

OUR TROOPS IN CANADA.

Beecher's Regiment Celebrating the Queen's Birthday.

MONTREAL, May 25.—Her Majesty's birthday was celebrated with grand eclat yesterday. Thousands of visitors were present from the United States and various portions of the Dominion. The display made by the troops was exceedingly fine. The Brooklyn regiment, in its bright, gray uniform, received a perfect ovation as the men marched along to popular British airs, played by their own band of forty-one pieces. When the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise appeared on the review ground, escorted by the Dragoon Guards, they were enthusiastically cheered by 30,000 people, who assembled to witness the pageant. The party took up a position at the flagstaff in the center of the field, affording them a fine view of the interesting scene.

Shortly after, accompanied by the general-in-chief, His Excellency and the Princess rode along the line of the troops, bands playing the National anthem, and the artillery thundering forth a royal salute of twenty-one guns. A sham battle was successfully fought, and a banquet was subsequently given at the Crystal Palace, at which the mayor presided. Many speeches were made, and general good feeling prevailed. The Marquis of Lorne addressed the visiting troops as follows; "Officers and soldiers of the gallant Thirteenth: I welcome you in the Queen's name to Canada, and I thank you for coming here to do honor to Her Majesty's birthday. We are brothers to-day in blood, and I rejoice to see you here as brothers in arms." The Thirteenth cheered this speech loudly.

In the evening Colonel Austen and the officers of the Thirteenth were entertained at dinner in the Windsor hotel by the lieutenant-general commanding and the officers of the militia in this city. The assembly was very large, and the banquet of the most recherche description. General Sir Selby Smyth presided. The speeches were not numerous and none of them long. In proposing the health of the President of the United States the Marquis of Lorne said: "I desire to express the earnest wish that comes from my heart, and I speak as the representative of the country which I serve. The wish is, 'May God bless the powerful nation over which he rules.'"

The St. James street Methodist church was crowded with a vast surging crowd long before the hour for divine service this morning, when Rev. H. W. Beecher was to preach to his regiment. His text was First Corinthians, xiii. : 13. It was pronounced generally to have been the most eloquent exposition of Divine truth ever delivered by that celebrated preacher. There were over 3,000 persons present.

Something About a Contest Between Directors of the Eastern and Western Division.

Charlotte Observer, 25th.

Having heard some rumors of a contest between the directors of the Eastern and Western divisions of the Western North Carolina Railroad, at their late meeting in Asheville, a reporter of the Observer applied to Colonel William Johnston, a member of the board of internal improvements, which met in conjunction with the directers, for the facts in the case. Colonel Johnston very kindly consented to give the information asked for, and made substantially the following statement:

The last Legislature passed an act abolishing the divisions made under the administration of Swepson several years ago, and requiring the directors of the Western division to turn over all the assets in their possession or under their control, to the directors of the Eastern Division, within thirty days after they are demanded. The act further provides a penalty for a refusal to comply with its requirements. In accordance with the provisions of this act, Governor Jarvis, at the late meeting of the boards in Asheville, furnished Major Rollins, president of the Western Division, with a copy of the act, and made a formal demand in writing upon him for the assets. The demand was refused on the ground that the assets--consisting in part of ninety-four thousand dollars of Florida bonds, supposed to be worth about fifty-five cents on the dollar—were then in use as security for the prosecution of other claims of the road now going on in Florida. Major Rollins and his board still have nearly a month in which to turn over the assets to the treasurer of the Eastern Division, but it is understood that they are fully determined to adhere to their recent decision. This will make a direct and exceedingly unfortunate contest between the Governor and the board, and may lead to very unpleasant things. Colonel Johnston does not hesitate to condemn the action of Major Rollins and his board, and says that they will be unable to justify their conduct under any pretenses.

In addition to the assets now in the hands of the Rollins board, they expect to obtain about $200,000 from the suit in Florida for other assets made over to the road by Swepson in his settlement. With these amounts in the possession of Major Wilson and his board, the work can be rapidly pushed to completion.

Colonel Johnston is impressed with the fact that Governor Jarvis will brook no delay on the part of the Rollins board—that he is determined that they shall comply with the full requirements of the act of the Legislature,

In less than thirty days the matter will be settled or will come to a direct issue.

Trouble in Store for the British Empire.

The latest dispatches from northern India represent its present condition as deplorable. The long smoldering discontent of the native population, aggravated by the recent pressure of cholera and famine, seems to have exploded in a kind of miniature nihilism, with the same adjuncts of anonymous menaces, incendiary fires, deliberate murders and seditious manifestoes. Men who can threaten to "put a price on the head of the governor of Bombay," and to "stir up another mutiny," unless their demands are granted, must be either very confident of their own strength or fully convinced of the weakness of the British administration. In any case, such phenomena are not to be slighted.

Thanks to the marvelous freemasonry of the Hindoos—a freemasonry which is still a sealed book to Europeans—news of every kind frequently travels among them quicker than it can be conveyed by post. A robber hotly pursued, enters a native village, is furnished with the means of disguise by its inhabitants, and passes undetected by his pursuers among a group of simple country-folk, none of whom, of course, have the least idea where the dacoit (brigand) can be. The same robber, a few days later, will receive intelligence, through the same cabalistic sign known only to the initiated, where he may pounce upon a subsidy of government money or get a chance of killing some unpopular officer. Should the movement, which is already employing the whole energy of one thousand soldiers, extend itself into Bengal, its consequences may be formidable enough.

A Mink Attacks a Boy.

New Orleans Picayune.

Yesterday morning the residents in the vicinity of the corner of Melpomene and Clara streets were startled by the cries of a child who was calling for assistance. A number of persons ran to the spot whence the cries proceeded, and to their great astonishment discovered that a boy eight years of age, named Johnny Patterson, whose parents reside on Clara street, had been attacked by a large mink, who was biting his toes. Two men, whose names could not be ascertained, hastened to the child's rescue, and with sticks attacked the animal, which only released its hold on the boy's foot after being killed. A physician was called in to examine the boy, whose toe was badly bitten, and expressed fears of being compelled to perform an amputation.

WATAUGA COURT.

WAYSIDE NOTES FROM LENOIR TO BOONE.

Among the Mountains----The Two Springs that send their Waters in Widely Different Directions.

Correspondence of the News.

BOONE, May 10.—Your correspondent left Lenoir, May the 5th, for Watauga court. En route to Boone we passed "Patterson Factory," which is situated seven miles from Lenoir, on the road from the latter to the former place, at the terminus of the "Yadkin Valley." This place has grown to be quite a town. The factory is owned by Messrs. Harper, Gwinn & Co. Mr. Gwinn, who is a thorough business man and gentleman is superintendent of the factory. Two miles above this place we passed through the toll gate on the turnpike road; from there to the top of the Blue Ridge, a distance of ten miles, there are only a few houses on the road. Just before us were several wagons loaded with merchandise; we think, from the the foot to the top of the Blue Ridge that the wagoners lost at least a sack of coffee, and for miles along the road we found old women, children and hogs picking up coffee. After a wearisome ride we at last reached the top of the Blue Ridge; behind us were the Catawba and Yadkin valleys; on our left were the "Grandfather and his Old Lady," the grandmother, overlooking the upper John's river valley, called the "Globe," we suppose from the fact that it is entirely surrounded by mountains; and far off in the distance is the "Hawk's Bill," "Table Rock" and "Short Off" mountains. Near us is the 'Blowing Rock,' which, by the way, we think, is a great big blow of nothing; in front of us are the beautiful valleys and verdant fields of Watauga; on our right is nothing but mountains as far as the eye can behold. A few hundred yards from the top of the Blue Ridge are two springs about one hundred yards apart, over each is a signboard with the respective inscriptions, which explain themselves: "Yadkin Spring, the source of the Great Pee Dee—distance by this stream to the Atlantic Ocean, 450 miles." "The New River Spring, tributary to the Great Kanawha, Ohio and Mississippi rivers—distance by these to the Gulf of Mexico, 2,500 miles."

We arrived at Boone about three o'clock p. m. Monday and found the court in session, Judge J. L. Graves presiding and Solicitor Jos. S. Adams prosecuting for the State. The local bar is very weighty, but consists of only one personage, Maj. H. Bingham. The visiting lawyers in attendance were Col. Geo. N. Folk, W. H. H. Cowles, Col. C. A. Cilley, Maj. Jos. B. Todd, Maj. Q. F. Neal, L. L. Green, Col. J. Clay Wilborne, J. M. Stafford and Capt. Thos. Smith, of Taylorsville, East Tenn.

Very few cases of importance were tried for the reason that there were none to try. The State docket consisted of a few assault and battery cases and one boy, George Cole by name, was convicted of larceny, and his Honor Judge Graves sent him to the county jail four months with instructions to the county commissioners to hire him out. The boy is a perfect ignoramus and we think is suffering from what the medical profession call "Kleptomania." He steals everything he can lay his hand on, pistols, watches, leather, old iron, cow-bells and even ram's-horns, and when in jail and he can get nothing else to steal he will steal his barlow knife out of one pocket and put it in the other.

Some of the correspondents of the press have charged Judge Graves with being "alarmingly slow" in the dispatch of business, which we think does him great injustice. He gives entire satisfaction, and while we think he adopts the motto of Crockett, "Be sure you are right then go ahead," we think he is one of the best judges in the State and does not leave one stone unturned in the line of his duties. Solicitor Jos. S. Adams is one of the youngest and ablest solicitors in the State and is getting better every day. He bids fair to make one of the best lawyers in North Carolina.

Mr. J. H. Harden, the Clerk of the Superior Court, and A. J. McBride, Sheriff of Watauga county, are excellent officers.

Boone, named in honor of the great pioneer, Daniel Boone, the county seat of Watauga, and has the highest elevation of any town east of the Rocky Mountains," is a thriving village; it has two hotels, the "Bryant Hotel," W. L. Bryan, proprietor, and the "Coffey Hotel," Coffey & Bro., proprietors; and three stores, the firms are W. L. Bryan, Coffey & Bro., and Estes & Co.

The citizens of Boone and vicinity have just completed a large and commodious academy, situated in the suburbs of the town, and they now have a flourishing school, male and female, numbering eighty-eight students. Mr. J. F. Spainhour is principal of the school. Board can be had in town at from $6 to 8 per month. Three young ladies edit a newspaper, which one of them reads to the school every Tuesday evening (it is only written); it contains all the news of Watauga Co., and is filled with wit and humor. We give the title page: "The Weekly Watauga Times, published in the town of Boone, N. C., every Tuesday evening, edited by Misses Rosa Montana, Mary Morton & Co., one door north of the Branch Bank of Boone. Subscription $2.00 per year in advance. The cheapest and livest newspaper in N. C."

The question submitted to the voters of Watauga county on last Thursday, whether or no the county would take stock in the C. L. and W. R. R., resulted in a majority of 300 against subscription.

We were pleased to meet with Mr. R. E. Blakey, editor of the Lenoir Topic, during court last week; he was here in the interest of his paper, which has a large circulation in Watauga county. We were several times taken for Mr. Blakey; we insisted that we were a better looking man than he, but I suppose we will have to let the girls decide this.

In our next letter we will give your readers a description of Watauga county—its fine stock, fine meadows, trout fishing, the inhabitants, etc.

JAKE H. H.

Moral Grandeur of the Southern People.

In a recent sermon the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is reported as saying: "This great nation was divided by an invisible line, morally visible enough, on both sides of which the North and South had stood in bloody antagonism for five terrible years. In my own judgment, when I consider human nature, when I consider that a proud people have seen themselves emptied out of power, their political existence almost annihilated, their property swept out of their hands as by a consuming flame, the ascendency of the despised slave established over them by what was to him a foreign arm, I should not have wondered if there had been ten times the resistance that there has been to reconstructive measures. Never in history has a people borne so much with so much patience, gallantry and patriotism—a spectacle of moral grandeur and of substantial good intent and honor in those who have been so terrifically scourged which is without parallel. The spirit which would set the North against the West, the Germans against the old Puritans or the Puritans against the Germans, the whites against the blacks or the blacks against the whites, is not only politically criminal, but it is absolutely subversive of the fundamental instincts of humanity. There is yet the power and the honor in this country to hold men together in charity and unity. When it was the need of the untempered North to be nerved to resist the arrogance of plantation domination I was not wanting. What we need now is love, charity, union. I speak again. Though I hated slavery I did not hate the slaveholder. I loved him and I still love him. I love all mankind, not only for what they are, but for what they are going to be."

CURIOUS ANECDOTES RELATED BY AN OLD REVENUE OFFICER.

A Profitable Traveling Troupe---A Bridegroom's Happy Thought---How to Dress a Pig.

Leisure Hours.

Perhaps the oddest phase of smuggling (for smuggling it really was) was patent in a practice which prevailed for several years in Dover, and was carried on openly in full view of the preventives and all the inhabitants of the town. About 1819-20 the fashion came up of wearing Leghorn bonnets of exorbitant dimensions. They were huge straw plaits, nearly circular, and averaging about a yard in diameter; they sold in England at two to three or more guineas each, according to their quality, and nearly half their cost was the duty paid on importing them. Now, according to the law, duty is not demandable on any article of dress worn by travelers. A clever dealer in Leghorns contrived to profit enormously by this law. He hired a numerous troop of the poorest women and girls—ragged, squalid and wretched-looking creatures they were, to be sure—and paid them almost a nominal fee for accompanying him daily in his voyages to and from the French coast, contracting with the captain of one of the steamers for season tickets for the whole of them. The troop regularly left Dover in the morning with scarcely a handful of bonnet on their heads; they dined at Calais, if they could afford to dine, and came back in the afternoon two or three score of them, each with a bran new Leghorn of fullest dimensions on her head, the rag of bonnet work worn in the morning being stuffed in her pocket. On landing they were all marched to the speculator's warehouse, denuded of their luxurious coiffures and dismissed for the day. A hundred times at least have I seen these forlorn and tattered purveyors of fashion both going out and coming in, and I could tell the boat they traveled by, while it was yet miles away, by the straw-colored amber line which under a cloudy sky would glimmer like a streak of sunshine ere the hull of the vessel was distinctly visible.

"A form of smuggling," says a writer to the Pall Mall Gazette, "which is not likely soon to die out is that practiced by tourists, who think it allowable to shirk paying duty on things which they have bought for their own use. Public morals on this point are slightly elastic and those of the gentler sex especially are apt to think that nothing compels them to 'declare' volumes of Tauchnitz cases of eau de Cologne, yards of Lyons silk or pieces of Brussels lace. Here is a story which will illustrate feminine notions on this subject and perhaps convey a moral. A Belgian bridegroom, being about to start for Paris on his bridal tour, was informed by his bride that she thought of some several thousand francs' worth of lace about her, hoping by its sale to pay the cost of their journey. The bridegroom was not smitten with this frugal project and pointed out that there were custom-house officers and a female searcher at Ercquelines, who were sometimes struck with an accountable fancy for examining passengers' pockets. This he said, being a timid man, and his bride, to humor him, promised to give up her plan, but then she secreted the lace at the same time without telling him about it. Now, as the train approached the French frontier the husband reflected, that if his wife were not searched his fears would be mocked at as having been groundless, and he would start on his married career with prestige impaired. This was not desirable; rather it was essential that he should from the very outset assert his infallibility. So when the train stopped at Ercquelines and the passengers alighted the Belgian bridegroom left his bride's arm for a moment, and sidling up to a douanier, whispered, 'I think if you search that lady yonder you may find some lace.' The douanier winked; the happy bride was accosted with an invitation to walk into the female searcher's room. She turned pale, tottered, but was led away, and five minutes later dismal sounds of hysterics were heard. Then the douanier reappeared, and said to the horrified husband, 'Thank you, sir; it's a good capture. The lady will be taken to prison, and half the fine will go to you.' This was a painful adventure, but it does not follow that all husbands are so inconsiderate, nor that all ladies who smuggle lace are caught."

A more amusing anecdote on this subject was lately told at a public dinner by M. Ferdinand Duval, prefect of the Seine. He said that the octroi men of Paris, who levy the municipal barrier dues, are a most vigilant set of fellows, but that, having boasted of their merits, he (the prefect) had been caught. A friend of his, residing in St. Cloud, had made a small bet that he would introduce a pig into Paris in his brougham without the octroi men detecting it. Mr. Duval took the bet, and strict orders were given at all the gates to Paris to look out for the brougham of the friend in question. Within less than a week, however, the prefect received the sum of eighty centimes, being the amount of duty leviable on a pig, and the request to come and assure himself that the quadruped had been successfully smuggled in. It turned out that the pig, killed and scalded, had been dressed up in women's clothes, and had been driven into Paris seated triumphantly on the box beside the coachman. Since then the octroi men, it is said, stare with some fixity at plump women when they behold them on carriage boxes.

In The Blood of the Grape.

Charlotte Observer.

It is stated that Kitchen and Russell, who were blackguarding each other at such a fearful rate a couple of weeks ago, are now hob-nobbing on most friendly terms and wiping out their animosities in the blood of the grape. Much more sensible than making faces at each other across the floor of the House.

Raleigh as a Market.

Henderson Review.

We often see in our warehouses here packages and bundles from our Raleigh business men to parties in this county. We presume that they are such goods as cannot be obtained in our town, hence they send to our capital for them. Raleigh is composed of first-class business men who understand their business, having made it a life-time study and practice.

AT THE AZORES.

A RALEIGH BOY'S VISIT TO THE WESTERN ISLANDS.

The City of Horta----Low Price of Labor---Exercise for a a Limber Tongue--Annexation Prospects.

Correspondence of the News.

ISLAND OF FAYAL, April, 1879.—The little of interest in the Azores has been so often written upon that it is with difficulty one can find a burden for a letter.

Fayal has the best harbor of the Islands, and its chief town, Horta, is the principal shipping place. Horta is a dull old city, with steep and narrow streets, and with shops that have no windows but depend upon one or two doors for ventilation and demi-daylight. Over all the shops are dwellings, some of them veneered with glazed tiles and all of them with projecting balconies. The names of the streets are also glazed tiles with the letters in blue. One street bears the name of our consul—Rua de Consul Dabney—who is held in high esteem by the natives. The Dabneys have been consuls, father and son, since 1807, and the present incumbent was born on the Island. They have several estates here, and their town residence is very handsome with gardens filled with exquisite flowers that are with us exotic.

The people of the Azores are simple in their habits, and the price of a day's labor is about twenty-four cents. One noted feature of Fayal is the capote worn by the women. This capote is a cloak of heavy dark blue stuff, falling in folds to the feet, surmounted with a large hood stiffened with buckram. The women are not handsome, but one may occasionally find a pretty face after exploring many a hood. A strange old custom still exists in Fayal of making prisoners on their way to jail let their trowsers fall down over the ankles so as to embarrass them in walking. One readily sees that it would have that effect.

Opposite the town of Horta is the Island of Pico, some four miles off, furnishing a natural break-water for winds and seas from the eastward. This island rises from the sea on all sides to a peak nearly 8,000 feet above the sea level, and for this reason the Island is usually spoken of as the "Peak of Pico." Happening the other day to meet a man named Pike who lives there, I could not help associating his name with his home, and the rythm of this association suggested an improvement upon "Peter Piper." I give it to you:

Pike, of Peak of Pico, picked a peck of pickled Pico peppers. If Pike, of Peak of Pico, picked a peck of pickled Pico peppers, where is the peck of picked Pico peppers that Pike, of Peak of Pico, picked?

Recently a strong disposition has arisen among the natives of Fayal to attach the Island to the United States. So much has the idea gained ground that the Portuguese Government found it necessary to send out a man of war to put down any overt act that might ensue.

If we did wish foreign possessions, this Island, near the coast of Europe, would be of importance to us. Its high cliffs, render it impregnable on one side, while the other side could readily be make as invincible as Gibraltar. A breakwater, one is constructing now, would make the harbor excellent. But ... involved ... possession. Sitka ... an elephant. We ... think the American people long to add to the menagerie. Portugal does not allow the soldiers stationed on the Islands to remain more than 3 months in one place. This is to prevent them from affiliating with the inhabitants.

Afraid of her own soldiers! Poor old Portugal, sunk to a low rate power, under the protection and advice of England, her ships gone from the sea, —her riches swept away, counted scarce a factor in the politics of Europe, how she has changed since the days of Vasco di Gama. The decay of Rome, furnishes hardly a sadder history.

God grant for the United States that when our days of strength are over her gray hairs may be honorable, and that her decline may be due to natural and unavoidable causes and not to superstition and religious bigotry.

Charlotte Observer.

A telegram to the Observer from Henry's states that the first full train of passenger cars went to the top of the mountain yesterday with about two hundred and fifty excursionists on board. The trip was a delightful one and was enjoyed by all who went.

For some time past correspondence has been going on between parties in this city and Col. Duncan K. McRae, of Wilmington, with reference to his delivering one of his justly celebrated lectures in Charlotte, and we are pleased to be able to announce that he has consented to give our people an opportunity of hearing him on the subject of "Laughter."

Work on the Cheraw and Chester Narrow Gauge Railroad is progressing very satisfactorily. This road, when completed, will open up a new field for the enterprising business men of Charlotte to cultivate.

It is unusually quiet in police circles.

The past week has been quite a gay one for Charlotte, but the present promises little in that direction.

Senator Vance's speech, published in yesterday's Observer, was universally read and enjoyed in Charlotte.

Wayne.

Goldsboro Messenger.

Our live eagle continues to be a subject of curiosty—a show in itself. He most made away with a little negro the other day. A word of caution to little negro urchins is sufficient. He seems fond of that kind of flesh, unless a good spring chicken or a rabbit is more convenient.

We are requested to state that the blind lady preacher, Mrs. Foushee, will commenee a revival at Mount Olive on Wednesday evening. Her LaGrange meeting resulted in about thirty penitents.

The committee appointed at a recent meeting of the citizens of Goldsboro, to consider the proposition of making a subscription to the Goldsboro, Snow Hill and Greenville Road, met on Friday and passed resolutions recommending that the county subscribe $40,000, and requesting the Commissioners of Wayne county to put the question of "subscription" or "no subscription" to the voters of the county on the first Thursday of August next. The committee further recomend that after the county shall have subscribed $40,000, the town of Goldsboro shall subscribe $10,000 making a total of $50,000 for Wayne county. We would have the citizens of Goldsboro to bear in mind that the Goldsboro, Snow Hill & Greenville Railway Company is to be organized at Snow Hill on Saturday next, and that books of subscription are now open at this office. Let Goldsboro raise $20,000—say $15,000 by town subscription and $5,000 by private subscriptions. This would defray one-third of the cost of grading the road ready for the iron. Goldsboro can well afford to do this much. With the road, new life and vigor will be infused into the community, and a new era of prosperity will dawn which will be felt by all classes of our citizens, property owners and business men in particular. The road must and will be built. Of this we feel no doubt if Goldsboro will raise $20,000.

The railroad reception room, located in the southern corner of the Gregory Hotel, is now open for the reception of the traveling public. The ladies' room is fitted up with an eye to comfort, nicely furnished and carpeted and supplied with washing facilities and ice-water.

Mr. Chas. Gurkin has returned from Edenton and reports that a telegraphic line will be established between that town and this, and work will begin right away.

We understand that arrangements are being made to have the United States steamer Huron gotten up. The wrecking of this ship and the sad loss of life attending it yet linger our recollection.

On last Thursday about six miles from here, Mr. Henry Markham with others attacked and killed a rattlesnake which measured five feet six inches in length and was found to have fifteen rattles and one button.

Political Remarks.

But as Maine contemplates Blaine's performances, she must remember, with growing sense of irreparable loss, that she once had a Fessenden in the Senate chamber.—New York Sun.

That was a center shot that Senator Eaton fired into the irrelevant harangue of Senator Blaine the other day. A considerable portion of the speech was made of extracts that Mr. Blaine read from Daniel Webster's speeches on constitutional questions. Listening attentively to these, Mr. Eaton congratulated the Maine Senator on the improvement in the matter and the manner of his argument.—Philadelphia Ledger (Grant organ).

Nearly all Blaine's time in Congress appears to be devoted to proving that there was a war fourteen years ago.—Springfield Republican.

Bishop Haven sees a providence in the political hostility which keeps Northern men out of the Southern States east of the Mississippi. Even if they got in there, they would crowd the negro to the wall closer than ever. The bishop says that the colored man shall himself be the lord of the soil in those States. But the bishop says that Texas is the great and effectual door opening for the crowded population of the East. "There," he says, "is our new and greater Kansas, where the battle for human rights must be peacefully, politically and successfully waged. Here are ample acres and and an 'ampler air'. Brought first from Mexico by one of Boston origin (Stephen Austin), let it be peopled by those of New England birth or descent. Thus shall the nation be clasped in loving arms on its South no less than on its North, and the whole continent abide in one universal, peaceful Union."—Springfield Republican.

Betting on a Sure Thing.

Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle.

A tough-looking citizen walked into one of the Justice's Courts yesterday forenoon very much intoxicated, and requested that he be allowed to swear off drinking for a year. His Honor obligingly put him through the solemn motions, and the convert, with a confused rumble of well-meant but profanely-expressed resolutions, stumbled out of the Court room.

"Bet he don't keep it an hour," said one of the grinning lawyers.

"Bet he sticks to it a week, anyhow," observed the Court with confidence.

"Nonsense!" cried everybody.

"What'll you bet?" asked the Judge.

"Twenty to ten," exclaimed an eager attorney, producing the money.

"Done?" cried his Honor, and the stakes were turned over to a Chronicle reporter.

"Constable," said the Court quietly, "go out and fetch that man back."

In a few minutes the reformed one was dragged in and the Judge ascended his dais, rapped for order and looked severe.

"Charged with being drunk" said the Court; "what's your plea?",

"Guess I'm full," admitted the prisoner, with an idiotic smile.

"Ten days in the County Jail. Constable, lock up your prisoner. Mr. Reporter, hand this Court that .wealth Court's adjourned. Boys, let's go and flood our lower levels."

The Prince of Wales as Prompter.

London Truth.

In receiving loyal addresses the Prince of Wales (who has an excellent memory) labors under a great disadvantage. Of course they are all submitted to him previous to delivery, and partly, perhaps, from the similarity in the phraseology of one address to that of another, the Prince often knows them by heart. Generally they are presented to him and "taken as read," but occasionally a Mayor loves the sound of his own voice too well to let the Prince escape so easily. I think it was the Mayor of Chester who was once reading his Royal Highness a lengthy discourse apropos of nothing in particular, and who, being short-sighted, and therefore unable to consult the actual document, forgot a sentence, paused and looked helpless, when the Prince kindly prompted him in an undertone. The Mayor blushed, and broke into a gallop over the remainder of the oration.

THAT SCHOOL BILL.

MAT. BRAMBLE TAKES UP THE CUDGELS.

Can Either of the Speakers of the Two Houses Thwart the Will of the People?

Correspondence of the News.

KNAPP OF REEDS, May 24.—The old man of Mount Gilead like a sentinel on the watch tower has sounded a note of alarm from his part of the line, and now we have startling news again from Raleigh. We hear with astonishment that there is a veto power known to our State law. Most plain people have fondly thought that this "jewel of the prerogative" had been left out of our organic law, that the will of the people through their representatives in the Legislature was the one power in this State which could make and unmake laws. But the light of recent events shows that while this may be true in word it is not true in fact, for it has been discovered that the Speakers of the two Houses or either of them can at pleasure thwart the will of the majority of the Legislature, and stifle the voice of the people, and there is no one to make them afraid. If this is not true, how is it that the school bill failed to become a law? Here are the facts: will some one rise and explain? Last winter the General Assembly amended the school law in many important particulars, among others appropriating about $40,000 in excess of the old appropriation. This bill was not signed by the presiding officer of each House before the adjournment; how this came about is a question wrapped in the gloom of official stupidity or buried deep under the rubbish of the Temple at the head of Fayetteville street; no charge is made of corruption, none of incompetency, it must have been one or the other, it may have been both, but the oyster-like silence observed by all concerned in the execution of this important trust has left the public completely in the dark as to which it was. All that is known is the Legislature passed the school bill; it was announced as signed from the Speaker's desk while the Legislature was in session; this is of record on the journals, I have been told, and has not become a law because Lieutenant Governor Robinson and Speaker Moring did not affix the imprimatur of their names at the foot of the bill, whereby the old school law remains in force; the will of the people is disregarded and the public school system choused out of wise provisions for increasing its power for good, including $40,000 in cash. The failure to sign was known a few hours after the adjournment, and the matter much talked about for weeks, until the Attorney General in an able opinion advised that the bill was law and should be signed by the presiding officers in compliance with the Constitution. One of these officers went so far as to send a message to the Secretary of State to have the bill set up in type so that it might be published with the laws, that he would sign it unless "prevented by Providence," and further that he was doubtful of his lawful power to sign after an adjournment, but would give the benefit of such doubts to the poor school children; that the courts were open to any one who wished to test the question, and no harm could be done by signing, or words to that effect.

The other, in a letter to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, as was announced on the streets, in the opinion of the Attorney General, that he would sign the bill and named a day when he would be in Raleigh for that purpose. Thus matters stood, when lo, in a moment, almost in the twinkling of an eye the entire force of things is changed. And by one of those unseen forces in nature known only to the rulers of men and to third-rate politicians, called ringcraft when used by the rulers, and chicanery when the wires are pulled by the third rate, our rulers found out that this bill ought not to be signed. And it was not signed. Some inquisitive folks want to know what will become of the $40,000 provided for in the new revenue bill to meet the requirements of this school bill which is not a law. Will it be covered into the general fund, there to go the way of so much of the people's taxes, and washed down the Catawba river from Mud Cut, sunk deep in the shoals and quicksands of Angola Bay, or swallowed up in hatching shad for the fishermen of the East to vend at exorbitant rates to the tax-payers of the center and West? Such are the plain facts as understood by a plain man.

They cannot be gainsaid or denied, and the voice of the people is now heard like the low growl of thunder asking why is this? Let him or them who caused this change of front by the speakers in face of the opinion of the law officer of the Government beware, or this growl will be changed into the full blast of that storm which on the 23d day of June, 1215 burst on the craven head of Lackland John, and in the thunder peals of Runnymede proclaimed the power of the people. Disregard of that power has proved the destruction of many a well planned scheme of ambition. One Governor of North Carolina is now postmaster of his native village because he forgot the teachings of the past. The power of the people is as great now as then.

The great Democratic party has no part or parcel in such things. In our conventions we will rebuke such Machiavellian policy, and at the ballot box enter our protest against all vetoes State or Federal. Now is the time to fix the responsibility where it belongs. "Let no guilty man escape," and let the Democratic party see to it that neither the misfeasance or malfeasance of individuals be laid at its door.

MAT. BRAMBLE.

The New York Governorship.

New York Mail (Rep).

We are informed, on excellent authority, that within the past few days Mr. Tilden has seen new light on the question as to who shall be his candidate for Governor; that he has reluctantly abandoned the effort to force Gov. Robinson on the Democratic convention, and that the Hon. Clarkson N. Potter is to be the nominee. The reasons for this change are numerous, but the most weighty—as we are informed—are these: First, the implacable hostility of Tammany Hall to Gov. Robinson, and secondly, the opposition of a large number of Democrats in the interior, who have been alienated by the governor's unprecedented use of the veto power. The astuteness of Mr. Tilden as a politician has thus been again demonstrated, and he will secure the nomination of a friend and supporter, without risking the division of his party by insisting on a nomination that would be a defiance of of fifty or sixty thousand Democrats. This means the union of the party on a man of decided ability, high standing and strong personal connections.

HEARTT & JORDAN, PROPRIETORS.

THOUGHTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

We have heard it of late, and frequently seen it stated in the newspapers, that we have reached the bottom of "hard times," and that business and thrift are reviving. We do not question the rule of the croaker, nor are we willing to discourage the hopes of the people, but before we fully believe the statement that hard times are over and that prosperity has returned we must see it in a more certain and substantial form than the mere assertion of persons ignorant of the facts or from the proclamations of those whose interest it is to deceive the people and further rob and degrade those of their hard earnings. The calamity of 1873, the effects of which have weighed upon the people of this country ever since, whereby hundreds of thousands of industrious men have been utterly ruined, a vast army of honest, industrious working men deprived of the means of self support by being thrown out of labor, their wives and and children starving and dying in rags, and the whole land filled with idlers and tramps wandering and begging from door to door, is not the result of accident, nor the necessary consequent of civil war. It had its origin in the Republican party, which obtained possession of the Government at the close of the war and sent its minions like the lice and locusts of Egypt to eat up and destroy every living and green thing of the land, and in iniquitous financial legislation which reduced the value of property and labor and increased the value of money.

Can prosperity return to the people until there is a reformation in the laws that has produced these troubles? We do not believe it. Let us furnish a few facts and figures, that we may be able to compare the past with the present, and see if we are prepared to accept the statement of the recomptroller that since the 1st day of January, 1879, business has been reviving and the times are better.

The business of this country is done principally upon a credit system. The debts thus made must be paid off by the accumulations and products of the people arising from labor. That is, money has in itself no power to increase, and all accretion and accumulation of wealth is the result of labor; the settlement of debts and the increase of wealth is the result of the earth's products and the labor of man. The laborer, therefore, is benefited or damaged according to the price he receives for his products or his labor.

Money and labor in times of ordinary prosperity have to each other a relative value. It is self evident that the enactment of a law which unduly enhances the value of money and decreases the value of labor and property must result in disaster to the people. This the Republican party has done, and we are exceptional on the question of returning prosperity until those laws that wrought the ruin are abolished.

We will not in this article show that money has increased in value, although it is the experience of every one, but content ourselves with showing how the crease of the value of their property. The figures are mainly taken from the great speech of General Warner, delivered in the House on the 26 instant?

"The wheat crop of the United States in 1869 was 300,000,000 bushels, valued at $375,000,000; the wheat crop of the United States in 1878 was 420,000,000 bushels, valued at $525,000,000."

Here we have it that while the labor spent in producing the wheat crop of 1878 was rewarded by the result of 122,000,000 bushels increase, yet the price received for it was $90,000,000 less; showing that the work and labor spent and goodness of God in granting the additional yield of 122,000,000 bushels was all thrown away, together with the expense of producing it. But what become of the 122,000,000 bushels? The farmer got nothing for it, but the speculator has it; and if wheat sold for a fair price in 1869, then he has it and has paid nothing for it. This is one of the results of increasing the value of money and depressing the value of property. But for this vicious law, the wheat producers of 1878 would have in their hands to meet their liabilities $150,000,000 more than they now have. Does the loss of that sum on the wheat crop alone of last year look like returning prosperity?

The cotton crop of 1869 was 2,700,000 bales, value $405,000,000; the cotton crop of 1878, was 5,200,000 bales, valued at $494,000,000. Here we have the fact that the farmers, with an additional outlay of expenditure and an increase of labor, produced 2,500,000 more bales of cotton in 1878 than they did in 1869, and could they have received the same price for it as in 1869 they would have been able to pay off every debt they owe, saved the credit of the country merchants, and made the colored people and other laborers who helped produce it comfortable. Instead of these reasonable and happy results, we have the sad facts that this immense crop of 1878 has brought to the producer, one hundred and nine millions dollars less than the small crop of 1869. Labor gone, time gone, expenses gone, and 2,500,000 bales of cotton all gone, and nothing received for it. Can prosperity proceed from such results? No! the hour of darkness is still upon us, nor can we see the hope of a brighter dawn until Congress, blots out these oppressive laws.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S announcement that he will not resign his present position in order to become the Republican candidate for the Governorship of Ohio probably signifies that in his opinion Ohio can be carried for the Republicans next October without his aid, an I that he can best advance his Presidential aspirations by continuing to emphasize the claim that he is the author of the resumption of specie payments, and that without him it would have been a failure. This is of course not so, any more than that his presence at Washington is needed to maintain resumption, but it is a very convenient position for him to occupy, for it certainly magnifies a man's importance when he is thought to be an indispensable part of a policy necessary to the prosperity of the country. Genin, the "coal-yarnie" says, is also indispensable to the country's peace, and thus the Republican party encounters the dilemma of choosing between two indispensables.

THE newspapers have lately discovered a very unpleasant outbreak. The cholera is just now raging in the holy town of Hurdwar, Hindostan, at the foot of the Himalayas, and is reported to have killed already 200,000 persons. The last time the disease visited Hurdwar was just seven years ago, and it travelled thence direct to this country. The route of the cholera is almost always the same. It is carried from India to Candahar, to Thibi in Persia, to the Black Sea, through Turkey, America and France, and carried thence across the Atlantic to America. As it takes more than a year to make this long journey there is not much to be feared. Its onward march from India, however, will be carefully watched, and if it begins to creep along its old pathway, measures will doubtless be taken by the European governments to stop its course.

THE Chicago trades unions now propose to put the eight hour rule in force on and after the fourth of July by a general strike. They have sent agents throughout the country, who have seen the Eastern trades unions on this subject, and arranged matters so that there will be a general rising of the workingmen in favor of this reduction in the hours of labor throughout the country. The Chicago workingmen have undoubtedly obtained strong support in their scheme, and it is not improbable that they will be able to spring this general strike on the country this summer.—New Orleans Democrat.

Happy thought on the part of the trades unions. Men throughout the country begging for work and the unions organizing strikes. As for the eight-hour rule, what does it amount to? No employer in the country can afford to pay more than eight hours' wages for eight hours' work—the same as the Government does at Washington.

A DISPATCH from Indianapolis gives the substance of an interview with senator Hendricks on the Courier-Journal attack. He says: "I can only say that the article was entirely without truth. I never made any combination of any kind with Mr. Kelly, or any one who acted with or for him, never knew of any appointments or confirmations, and cannot understand the animus of the attack. If there was the slightest truth in the charges made by the Courier-Journal, I could imagine that the editor had heard an exaggerated story, but as there is not, I can only say it astonishes me." Mr. Hendricks further says: "I do not propose to be a candidate for Vice-President with any one, and have declared this publicly; and, so far as I am concerned, the old ticket will not be in the field."

ACCORDING to the Chicago Times the circulation of the rabid Okolona States during April ranged from 900 to 967 copies weekly. The paper has a "patent outside," furnished from St. Louis. After its fiery editorials began to appear its circulation declined very noticeably from the falling off of home patronage. Its recent slight advance is attributed entirely to subscriptions from the [illegible] this paper represented any considerable Southern sentiment should now be undeceived.

A SMART Democrat in the Ohio Legislature has created a bill to put the ballot boxes for Congressional elections three hundred feet away from the polls where State and county tickets are voted. This is an anti-bayonet bill that the President can't bother with, and it would be just like the Ohio Legislature to pass it. If the Republican party insists upon having troops at the polls, together with a lot of rounders in the disguise of deputy marshals, they can't object to having it made an exclusive affair.

Munchausen Haven Gives a Bad Account of Texas.

Bishop Gilbert Haven, that veracious blood-hound of Zion, says that Texas is all that it is reported to be for lawlessness. A Judge said to him: "I think Texas is best described by a saying current there. A husband, sitting at his fire, says to his wife: "Wife, I reckon I'll go to prayer meeting. Bring me my revolver." The Bishop thus sums up the tragedies that came under his notice during a brief visit: "An old man and his wife go to visit a neighbor and his wife. That night they are attacked. The two men and one of the women are murdered. A few days after two men and a son-in-law are murdered, supposed to be the assassins of the two men and their wives. A daughter is reconciled to her husband, who has left her. As she is standing at the door to greet him, her father and brother shoot him dead. Two men, hitching their horse to an emigrant wagon, differ about the forage. Knives and pistols fly forth, and one lies prone on the ground. A marshal stands in the door of a saloon, and an enemy puts a bullet through his heart. A man was fined for carrying unlawful weapons, and when the officer attempted to take them away, his son, a lad of seventeen, shoots the officer. A man cracks a joke on an acquaintance. He sees that his friend is offended, and takes it back. No use. The friend shoots him through the heart. Two cattle traders had been riding together all day, good friends. As one of them rode off at nightfall the other shot him in the back. Two neighbors had a horse race for a saddle. The saddle not forthcoming, as they were plowing they exchanged shots, one being killed. Two children awoke at night, and saw their father walking about with his throat cut. His sister-in-law is the murderess." In spite of the present condition of Texan society, however, the Bishop thinks there is a brilliant future for the State.

VEST POCKET CURE
25 DYSPEPSIA 25
CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE
Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C.
I join with Bishop Doane in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.
Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, Bapt.
It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of character, enough to establish that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experience of a good part of the preparation by well known physicians, from all, no doubt. It is beyond question a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Bell, in Religious Herald, Va.
Chaplain Randolph, Mason College, Va.
Many cases of dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headache and all sorts of pain from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.
Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. D., Va.
It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent Colic, sedative, top rifle, tonic, slightly ape ent, without nausea.
Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E. Na Conf.
About twelve years I suffered from dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health sixteen years, I have known many since to be relieved by its use.
Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.
I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For protration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.
J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.
It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively useful than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints of families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.
Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.
This remedy is of great virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.
Price 2 cts per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by

Talbott's Patent Spark Arrester,
THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.
Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:
It does not destroy the draft.
It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.
It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.
It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)
It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a flabby condition.
It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.
It can be attached to any boiler.
No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or horse-power.

DAILY NEWS

TUESDAY, - - - - - - MAY 27, 1879.

Jefferson Davis at Home.

Boston Herald.

Alighting from the train at Beauvoir Station, Miss., you can see two or three small brown structures, a grove of pines, and the white vista of vanishing railway track, glittering with millions of minute refractions of the bright sunshine for miles along its sandy way.

Taking the half perceptible roadway to your right, ten or fifteen minutes' walk through the pines brings you to the beach. Here you see a house built in the airy fashion of this region of perpetual sunshine. This is the residence of the Rev. Dr. Lacock, an aged Episcopal clergyman, once chaplain to the Duke of Cambridge. Beyond the reverend gentleman's estate you see fronting the beach another estate, the residence of Mr. Davis.

Entering the gate you pass across a lawn dotted with live oak and other trees, festooned with picturesque Spanish moss. Before you is a low and spacious mansion, painted white, with broad verandahs. At either side, a trifle nearer the fence, is a small building, a sort of pavilion. While resting on the verandah, waiting for your letter of introduction to be handed to the master, your eye takes in the hospitable provisions for ease afforded by several comfortable rocking chairs, a table and a settee.

Life here is al fresco. The broad hall which goes through the house is open to the breeze, but not to the ardent sun whose rays are intercepted by the verandah. Here, on the front verandah, sits of a morning the ex-President of the South, in full view of the Gulf of Mexico, that dazzling, radiant expanse of shimmering blue. Its summer waves glide softly to break in lulling sound upon the white and sparkling sand. The breeze is laden with the strange perfume of the sea. It is the land of the lotus eaters, where 'tis always afternoon. Sitting on this verandah, into what reveries may not the Confederate ex-President fall, as he gazes out upon this Mexican gulf, which, had the dreams of the Southern statesman been realized, would have been the inland sea of a mighty empire, stretching to the tropics?

I was soon summoned to the little pavilion to the right of the mansion. This building is divided into two parts. The rearward is occupied by an ancient and favorite negro servant, whose idea of housekeeping is to display his furniture and tools on his little verandah. He has a notion of raising vegetable odds and ends in boxes, and his vagaries excite but a smile. No one dreams of interfering, even for the sake of order, with the privileges of this ancient servitor. The front portion of the pavilion is occupied by Mr. Davis as a library and study. Here I found him slightly indisposed and lying upon a lounge. His manner is genial and very kindly, with that charming courtesy characteristic of the highbred Southern gentleman.

Seventy years of age, Mr. Davis has yet a fresh and vigorous look. His hair, moustache and whiskers are white in part, but his eye is bright and cheerful. His face in repose is almost severely intellectual, but the smile which lights up his mouth and his quiet, cheerful laugh dispel the first impression of coldness. Few of our public men have the quiet fascination of manner, the old-fashioned grace and the charming conversational powers of Jefferson Davis. His memory is capacious and retentive. One might, with a facile phonographic pen, collect great stores of reminiscence from his lips.

LIVER

HEPATINE.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpid Liver, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile every time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

BLOOD

STILLINGIA.

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Scrofula, Syphilis, White Swelling, Ulcerous Sores and Skin Disease, in a thousand, is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. DR. PEMBERTON'S STILLINGIA AND YELLOW DELIGHT is the only medicine upon which a sound hope of recovery from Syphilis, Mercurial diseases and Cancer can be safely founded, and the proprietors of the same will pay $10,000 will be paid the proprietors if Mercury, or any ingredient not purely vegetable and harmless can be found in it.

TUTT'S PILLS IMPART APPETITE.

DR. TUTT has succeeded in combining in these pills the heretofore antagonistic qualities of a STRENGTHING, PURGATIVE, and a PURIFYING TONIC.

Their first apparent effect is to increase the appetite by causing the food to properly assimilate. Thus the system is nourished, and by their tonic action on the digestive organs, regular and healthy evacuations are produced.

The rapidity with which PERSONS TAKE ON FLESH while under the influence of these pills, indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, melancholy, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health & strength to the system. NOW READY FOR DELIVERY!

The Digest of Cited Cases IN THE North Carolina Reports.

By Hon. A. W. Tourgee.

We are happy to announce to the legal profession that this valuable work is now ready for delivery to subscribers. The labor of preparation and the necessity of securing the utmost possible accuracy in the immense number of citations, has necessarily delayed the work, but the result cannot but be satisfactory to every practioner. It contains every case in the Reports of the State which has been cited by the Court, the cases in which cited, whether with approval or disapproval, with a careful digest of the point of citation with a full and accurate index to the subject matter of each. In form, matter, completeness and style of publication, it is undoubtedly the best law book ever published in the State containing 750 large double-column pages, 5,162 cited cases and about 30,000 citations.

It will be mailed to subscribers on receipt of the price $12 with 25 cents for postage, or sent by Express C. O. D. when there is an office convenient. Persons desiring to have the work should order at once, as the edition is a limited one.

ADDRESS CHAIRMAN—University of the South.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Oh, Johnny, if you love me so,
Said Kitty to her beau,
I'm sure if you had said the word,
I'd had you long ago.
I know, my dear, that's what you want,
But that I try to shun;
While you're in earnest all the time,
Why I am just in fun.

——The revenue receipts yesterday were $1,442.26.

——Dr. Royster reports that Mr. Blake is improving.

——No arrests Sunday, and the city was quiet.

——It vas took vet 'bout dot delgraf's office las' night.

——"A beautiful custom"—that the merchants who advertise have.

——Wet saleratus will relieve the pain and stop the swelling from the sting of bees and wasps.

——The sermons by Rev. Mr. Lacy in the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday, have been much complimented.

——Little lakes of water, on the streets did stand, after the rain that poured on the land, last night.

——If S. Edward Rogers is in this State he is hereby notified to appear at Jersey City and claim a hyena willed him by Dan Rice.

——Miss Painter is now in Lexington. She will long be remembered in this city for her faithful service in the cause of religion.

——The Market tower clock on a jamboree last night and not a policeman to check it in its reckless career. It struck 12 half a dozen times two hours after its schedule time. "The times are out of joint."

——A letter in this morning's NEWS from Lieut. Perrin Busbee, from the Azores, will be read with much interest, particularly by his host of friends and admirers in this city.

——Mrs. Moon, the evangelist, closed her labors on Sunday evening. The Edenton street church was crowded, many being unable to gain an entrance. She goes from here to Tarboro, where an extensive revival is in progress.

——If you are riding or walking about this evening, just pass beyond the bridge on Hillsboro street after 4 o'clock and the chances are you will see the handsomest lawn full of pretty young ladies your eyes have rested upon for many a day. This is no castle in the air—either ——There was a large attendance at the Edenton Street M. E. Church yesterday to pay the last respects to the memory of the late W. R. Pepper. He was buried by the Masonic and Odd Fellows Orders, of which he was a member. He will long be remembered by many who had occasion to be grateful for his many charities.

——Soda water, seltzer water and other cooling drinks of like nature are all the rage during this weather. Those who like seltzer and desire to imitate it may find the following analysis by Bergman useful: Water, 16 fluid ounces; carbonic anhydride, 17 cubic inches; carbonate of sodium, 4 grains; carbonate of magnesia, 5 grains, carbonate of calcium, 3 grains; chloride of sodium, 17 grains. To make it on a small scale use a gazogene. It's easy.

Church Additions.

At the Person Street M. E. Church Sunday six joined, two of whom were baptized.

At the Edenton Street M. E. Church five joined and three baptisms took place.

Magistrate's Court.

Two cases before Justice Barbee yesterday morning. The first was the State vs. Hardy Cross, on a charge of assault and battery. Guilty, but sentence was suspended for the present.

The State vs. Arthur Williams, of Tupper Church notoriety, was the next. Counsel for defense asked for a jury, and the case was set down for 10 o'clock this morning at the Court House.

Married.

At the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. W. S. Black, Miss Rebecca Correll and Mr. H. A. Deal, of Charlotte. The ceremony was performed last night without waiters, only a few friends of the bride's family being present. It was a quiet though happy wedding. Mr. Deal formerly resided in this city and was connected with this office for a number of years. He is a young gentleman of energy and talent. The happy couple leave for Charlotte to-day, which place they will make their future home.

Personals.

Dr. J. K. Ruffin, of Wilson, is registered at the Yarboro House.

J. A. Gray, Esq., President of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. is at the Yarboro.

Mr. J. E. Taylor, of the Taylor Manufacturing Company, and Mr. A. S. Duval, of Baltimore, can be found at the Yarboro.

O. A. Cook, Esq., a prominent lawyer of Warrenton, is at the same hotel.

Capt. J. W. Dowd, of Shotwell & Dowd (Farmer & Mechanic), is in the city at the National Hotel.

A Teacher's Opinion.

Dr. R. H. Lewis, President of Kinston Collegiate Institute, says: "I have given "Moore's School History of North Carolina" a careful reading from beginning to end. The book was so attractive that, for several nights, I have been kept up to the small hours of the night reading its pages. There is a charm and freshness about it that I can not precisely understand. It is the only school book of State history that I know of, worthy of the name. It meets all the requirements of a book of its kind. The author has worked up the facts in his own pleasant and smooth style—not copied from the prim records. The teachers, school children, and the North Carolina public generally owe a debt of gratitude to my college-mate, the author, which, I, for one, will pay to the best of my ability, by recommending it to all, and by placing it at once in the list of text books used in Winston Classical Institute." Published by Alfred Williams & Co., Raleigh.

Among the most noticeable and characteristic features of city life may be mentioned that of the hotel. Nothing so much conduces to the enjoyment of the visitor. The "St. Nicholas" hotel, in New York, is a notable example of this. For the last quarter of a century this splendid establishment has stood foremost, and unites all the traditions of old-time hospitality with a foremost place in the improved requirements of the age. The guest finds here the level of the most exacting demands, superb cuisine, and the perfection of accommodations.

Mayor's Court.

The amount of stock in the bazaar of justice yesterday morning was rather slim, none having arrived Sunday.

Sally Vandergriff hadn't taken any water in her'n, and the consequences were lamentable. Her head wagged and her knees trembled; she had a raging fever. That was what ailed her, so the Mayor sent her to the "cooler," to stay there twelve hours, or till the thermometer indicated a return of her system to its normal state.

"Drunk and disorderly," said Officer Thompson, as he introduced the Hon. Nelson Farrow," and Nelson couldn't explain away the charge. So he remains the guest of the city until this evening, and in the meantime finishes up a contract for cleaning the guardhouse. So much for testing "heavy juice."

Elizabeth City as a Fish Market.

Elizabeth City Economist.

The town of Elizabeth City possesses great natural facilities for becoming one of the great fish markets of this country. The influx of fish from the Atlantic Ocean into Albemarle Sound but a few miles below is immense. For years past numbers have been taken, but very few have been shipped to northern markets because the fishermen had no speedier means of obtaining market quotations than by mail, and by the time a letter could have reached them from New York prices would probably have fluctuated a dozen or more times. Thus our home market was flooded and the remuneration obtained by the fishermen was inadequate to justify a more extensive engagement in the business. But when the telegraph was constructed to this place and they had the means of keeping apace with northern prices men began to cast speculative glances at the vast fishing-fields of the Albemarle section of North Carolina and during the past season with no greater shipping facilities than we possessed, about sixty thousand dollars worth of fish were sent north from our town. We prophesy that in another season large packing houses will be erected here and that the amount of fish which will be shipped from here will be as largely in excess of this season's total as the amount shipped this season exceeded that of any past year.

The banks of Eastern North Carolina which have become proverbial for their sterility are indeed surrounded with banks in which nature has made rich deposits and if the fishing interest is properly developed it will prove a source of vast wealth to our people.

And a Chromo.

N. Y. Tribune.

It seems that the colored man of the South, besides being robbed and abused by his white neighbors, was bewitched by the blandishment of the seductive stereopticon. A correspondent describes how this machine has pursued its iniquitous business in Mississippi. "The pictures most admired in these entertainments are Kansas scenes. They represent negroes in highly-colored garments chasing wild buffaloes through prairies grown up richly in grass and grain, and performing other like feats of prowess, or contentedly sitting in the shade of their dwellings and surveying their vast possessions."

The Way it is, You See.

Courier-Journal.

"It takes only 11,461 rebel voters to send four ex-rebels to Congress, and it requires 117,429 Union voters, over ten times that number, to send four Union men to Congress. How is that?" —Radical Exchange.

Why, you see, 11,461 "Union" voters each voted ten times at the same polls, under the false impression that they would get more Representatives than the law allows by piling in the fraudulent votes.

His Lion Courage.

Philadelphia Times.

Senator Zach Chandler will not engage in any such small business as sueing the editor of the Washington Post for libel. He is not that kind of warrior. Senator Chandler is saving himself, in the hope that the war will break out again pretty soon and he will have a chance to go to the front and fight; his lion courage finds nothing to work on in the Senate.

Oh, Hush.

Courier-Journal.

The golden editorial silence preserved by the Cincinnati papers in regard to the extraordinary criminal record of Ohio remains unbroken. Oh, hush!

A Call.

The streams are shouting now to me,
From silver trumpets on the hills,
To leave the city smoke, and he
Their guest, where grass and daffodils
Like Mary at the Master's feet,
Break alabaster boxes sweet.
—Meriden Recorder.

The Celbrated Seven Springs Iron Alum Mass.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetes;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with a considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

JNO. F. MAYNE.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 23d, 1879.

Rev. J. D. Parker, of New Orleans, La., writes: "Having tried effectually the 'Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass,' for Diarhea, Kidney afflictions, &c., I take pleasure in recommending its use in these complaints. In my case it affords immediate relief.

J. D. PARKER."

Unheard of Bargains!

Who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
Will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids you all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too,
And not forget

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Steadily pursues its course. It affords its members, by the old time maxims of economy, integrity and prudence, insurance at the lowest cost. It offers to all who want to protect their dependents a policy whose claim by death will be honored, or at whose lapse, for any reason, a stipulated paid up policy can be obtained. In thirty-two years this company has disbursed the enormous sum of over thirty-two millions in death losses and endowments throughout the country. It does not seek patronage by specious plans. Experience has shown that the most advantageous forms of policies are life—by annual or limited premiums; and long term endowments. Please send or call for its full statement, with table of rates, etc. S. D. Wait, general agent, four doors South of the "Yarboro House." *

The New Stock Speculation.

The new combination method of operating in stocks which Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have inaugurated, is attracting much attention in financial circles, by reason of its remarkable success. A customer in Providence, invested nine times, and made over $5,000 in three months, by using from $50 to $500 capital. By this system, orders from thousands of customers, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and operated as a mighty whole, thus giving to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and shrewdest skill. Profits are divided every thirty days. Any amount from $10 to $75,000 can be used in Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s combinations with equal proportionate success. $15 will make $75 profit in the month. $200 will return $1,600, or 8 per cent. on the stock, and so as the market varies. The new circular gives "two unerring rules for success," and shows how any one can operate profitably. Mailed free. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y.

WILL YOU SELL the FARM!

Chapin's Farm Agency,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Dr. A. B. Chapin, Manager.

North Carolina Branch of George H. Chapin's Farm Agency, Boston, Mass.

Special attention given to the sale of North Carolina Real Estate. No charge made until a sale is effected. All property placed in our hands for sale will be advertised in the popular work. The South Illustrated free of expense.

The Charleston News and Courier says: "Everybody has heard of Geo. H. Chapin's farm agency, and few are unacquainted with the success which has attended its operations."

The New England Farmer says: "Geo. H. Chapin has advertised his farms to the amount of $50,000 during the past year. We commend him to our readers.

The Aiken, S. C., Review says: "No one has done more than Geo. H. Chapin in the cause of Southern immigration. Our village is thronged with Northern people in search of Southern homes, and good sales are being made. The "South Illustrated" is doing a great work for us."

The New York Tribune, the Boston Herald, Journal, Traveler, Globe, and Advertiser speak in the highest terms of Chapin's Farm Agency.
